

2010 UNCA Severe Weather Workshop

Presented by
The Department of Atmospheric Sciences, UNC Asheville

In cooperation with the National Weather Service Office at Greenville/Spartanburg, SC

Supported by
The Dean of Natural Sciences Office, UNC Asheville

When: 8:00 am – 5:30 pm, Saturday, April 17, 2010

Where: Robinson Hall 125, UNCA, Asheville, NC 28804

Presenters: Academic, operational, and professional meteorologists from
UNCA, NWS/GSP, and NCDC

This unique workshop will offer scientific presentations to promote the awareness, understanding, and preparedness for severe weather, which includes hurricanes, thunderstorms, tornadoes and flooding. This workshop is specifically designed for the weather enthusiast, teachers, students, and general public. No prior knowledge of meteorology is required.

Professional meteorologists and experts on severe weather will provide valuable information about theoretical, operational, and observational aspects of severe weather at the workshop. There will also be ample time in the program for participants to ask questions, interact with presenters, and network with local meteorologists.

Registration fee for the workshop is $15 and covers refreshments and drinks during breaks, a boxed lunch, and basic materials of the workshop. Door prizes will be awarded. Students with a valid student ID can attend the workshop for free, but door prizes will only be drawn for paid registrants. Teachers who wish to receive a continuing education credit for the workshop should complete an application form with a $15 application fee by the end of the workshop.

Deadline for registration is Tuesday, March 30, 2010.

TO REGISTER for the workshop: Please complete the enclosed form and mail it with a check for $15 toward registration payable to ATMS, UNCA to: Ms. Linda Strother, RBH 215, ATMS, UNCA, One University Heights, Asheville, NC 28804. Please make sure to include your e-mail address.
